MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

August 2019

The seasons seem to pass so quickly, and in recent months staff have been planning the fall and winter recreation programs and events featured in this publication, anticipating a transition to a new year called “2020.” That’s been a term — up until now — that we only associated with an eyesight standard or a long-running ABC television program!

But 2020’s coming, and as we look toward a new decade, we do so feeling optimistic about the future of our community, while also feeling reluctant and unwilling to disregard the past.

In late June we finally “broke ground” for the Sycamore Hill Gateway Plaza project at Town Common, a project that will reflect on that past, by sharing the history of the acreage surrounding First and Greene Streets — BEFORE a portion of that land became Town Common.

Until the late sixties, an architecturally beautiful and historically impactful church stood there on the NE corner of 1st and Greene, with the Shore Drive neighborhood, commonly referred to as “Downtown,” bordering the church grounds on all sides.

As some of the most significant and centrally located public lands within the GRPD system, we’ve come to consider Town Common, encompassing 20 acres on the south bank of the Tar River, as “Everybody’s Park,” but it is important to remember that these lands were once part of the much larger Downtown neighborhood. Hopefully, the Gateway Plaza at Town Common will tastefully, effectively, beautifully and accurately relate the story of that church, neighboring citizens, and life in the Downtown Community.

We are hopeful for and anticipate a ribbon cutting in mid 2020.

In recent years, “Everybody’s Park” also has been the site of other improvements, including the fishing pier, accessible playground, kayak and canoe launch, restroom building, and, the massive Town Creek culvert project now under way. We have seen a great increase in park events and visitations as a result, and are pleased that so many people are willing to come together at Town Common to enjoy these park improvements, events, and each other’s company. There’s more to come.

On “the activities end,” please remember that our Recreation Staff work diligently to prepare a multitude of exciting programs, events & services for the benefit of our residents and visitors. Many such programs are featured in this bi-annual brochure, where you’ll find some new services as well as some old standbys, and hopefully locate something that’s a good fit for you or a member of your family.

Whether it be through athletics, fitness, racket sports, nature programming, cultural arts, performing arts, recreation center activities, aquatics, watercraft opportunities, special events, or programming for those with special needs, our employees and volunteers try to provide high-quality services for our customers.

We hope you will be one of those customers.

Stay active and healthy.
